

what gives you

hope

Asking people what gave them hope, I photographed their perceptions of it as the first part of this book and juxtaposed with my idea of it, shown as the second part of the book.

This book aims to revive hope and remind you of the good that still exists around us, the little moments that should matter.

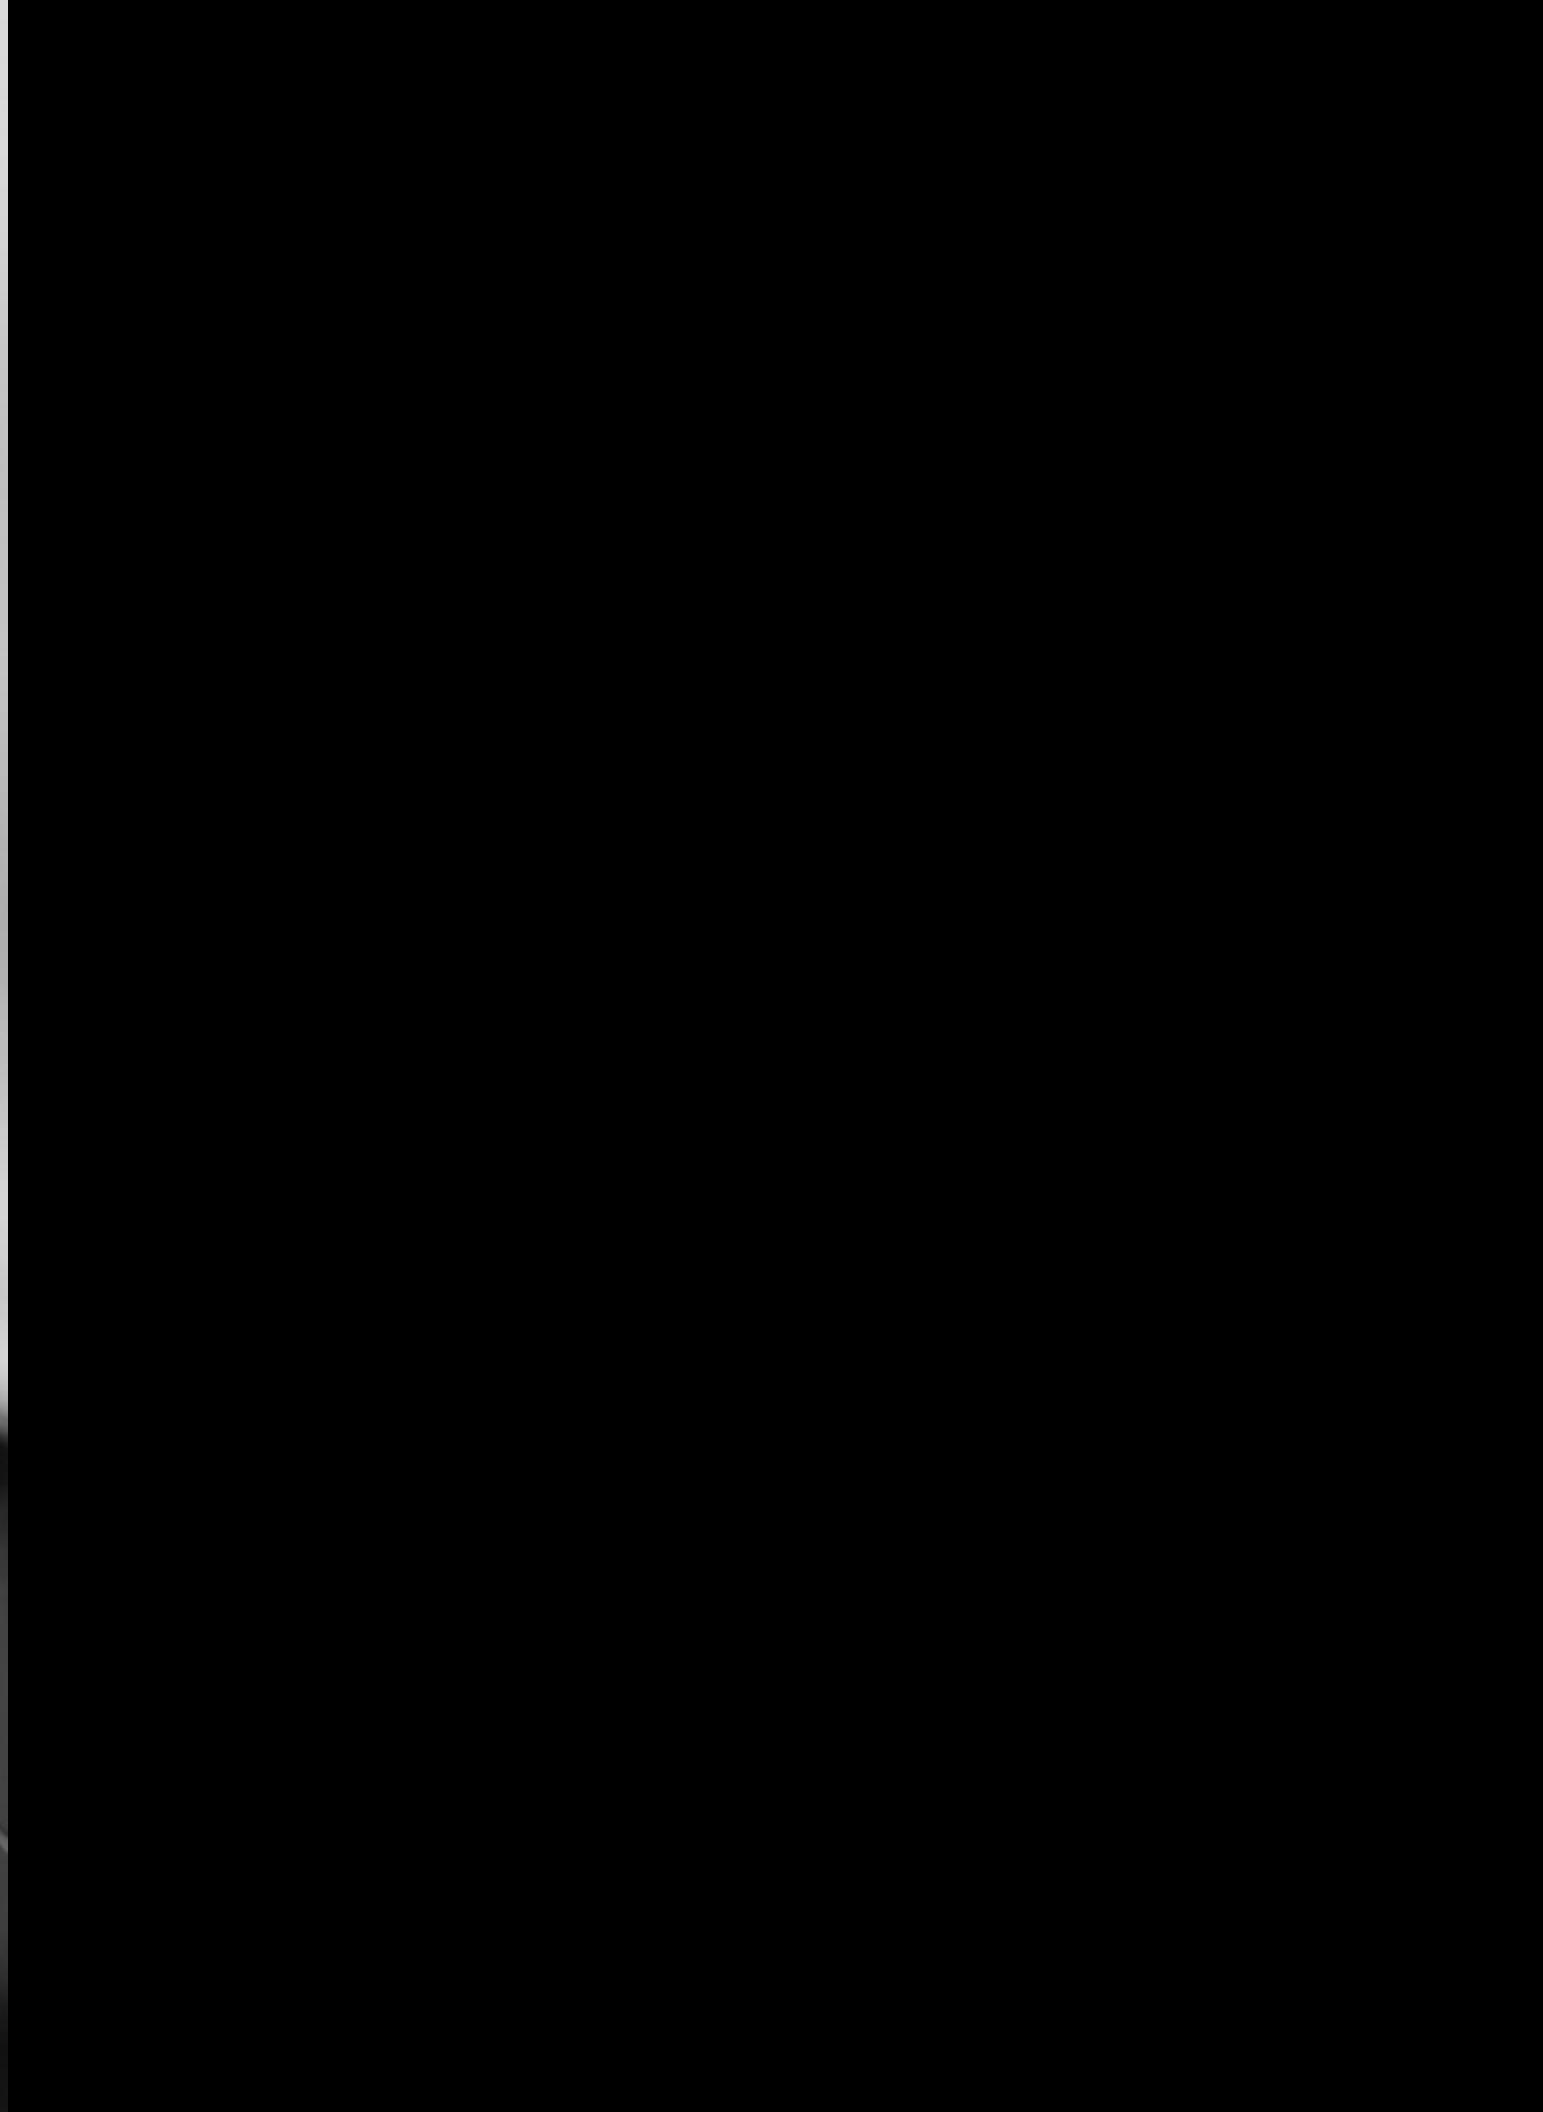

Knowing that god is handling everything for me
The fact that you can wake up daily feeling a different kind of way
There will be tomorrow
When people care for each other outside the scope of obligation
Humanity
You
Nothing
The positivity towards life and to come up with new goals to reach
The power of thought
The strength of forgiveness
Graduating
Staying positive
Faith
You
Seeing others improve and become better people
Believing in miracles, waking up every day
Random acts of kindness and positive vibes
Happiness
Waking up everyday
Kids
Laughter or friends
The little moments
The thought of a new day coming and having fun moments in life
Remembering that I have people in my life who love me
Seeing beauty in the world
Nothing because everything I think about is likely silly and wrong
Hopeless
